Foremost I would like to thank the two most important influences in my life, past and present (future?): my mother and father. They have taught me to love, understand, achieve, and accept nothing less than the best of anything when possible. I owe them much and am deeply grateful to them.

"Where is the way to the dwelling of light; and where is the place of darkness . . . ?" -The Book of Job

To my good friend David Smith who "followed me up here" I want to express a deep thanks for all the good times we've had and the infinite good times to come. Gratitude is also due to the first three idiots to befriend me: John "Bubbles" Burrows, Tom "Reddog" Redman, and Art "SWIM" Noriega. Thanks, guys, for making being new a little easier and for showing me how to SCREW UP on a LARGE scale!

I also want my friends back home to know that they haven't been forgotten. In particular Rob S., Dan M., Chris S., and Scott S.

We have loved the stars too fondly to be fearful of the night. -

The tragic joke of history is that on any of the altars men erected, it was always man whom they immolated and the animal whom they enshrined. -Ayn Rand

The egoist in the absolute sense is not the man who sacrifices others. He is the man who stands above the need of using others in any manner. He does not function through them. He is not concerned with them in any primary matter. Not in his aim, not in his motive, not in his thinking, not in his desires, not in the source of his energy. He does not exist for any other man — and he asks no other man to exist for him. This is the only form of brotherhood and mutual respect possible between men. -Ayn Rand

I am neither foe nor friend to my brothers, but such as each of them shall deserve of me. And to earn my love, my brothers must do more than to have been born. I do not grant my love without reason, nor to any chance passer-by who may wish to claim it. I honor men with my love. But honor is a thing to be earned. Ayn Rand

You only live once; sometimes not even then. Tucker Wildermuth

People who complain of loneliness must have lost something, lost some living connection with the cosmos, out of themselves, lost their life-flow like a plant whose roots are cut. And they are crying like plants whose roots are cut. But the presence of other people will not give them new, rooted connection, it will only make them forget. DARE GREATLY-It is not the critic who counts; not the man who points out how the strong man stumbled, or where the doer of the deed could have done better. The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena; whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood; who strives valiantly; who errs and comes short again and again; who knows the great enthusiasms, the great devotion, and spends himself in a worthy cause; who at the best knows in the end the triumph of high achievement; and who at the worst, if he fails, at least fails while daring greatly; so that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who know neither victory or defeat.

I am thankful for the support of my family and my friends.

Mom and Dad: Cranbrook has been a tremendous experience. Words can't express the feelings I hold in my heart for both of you. You've always been there to guide and support me through good and bad. Thank you for giving the opportunity to come to Cranbrook. I love you both very much.

Mr. Kelley, Mr. D., A.J., Mr. Graesser, Mr. Cox: Thank you for all that you have taught me about being a better athlete, a better competitor, a better student, and a better person. You're the best.

Mr. Price: Thank you for all that you've done for me. Sailing was great. Don't take any crap from the sophomores and remember, "Don't get mad, get even."

Yes there are two paths you can go by.

But in the long run.

There's still time to change the road you're on.

Greg: Afraid of heights? Let's go sailing. All I need is a cool buzz, some tasty waves, and I'm set. You lifting. Caught ya scopin'. It's been real.

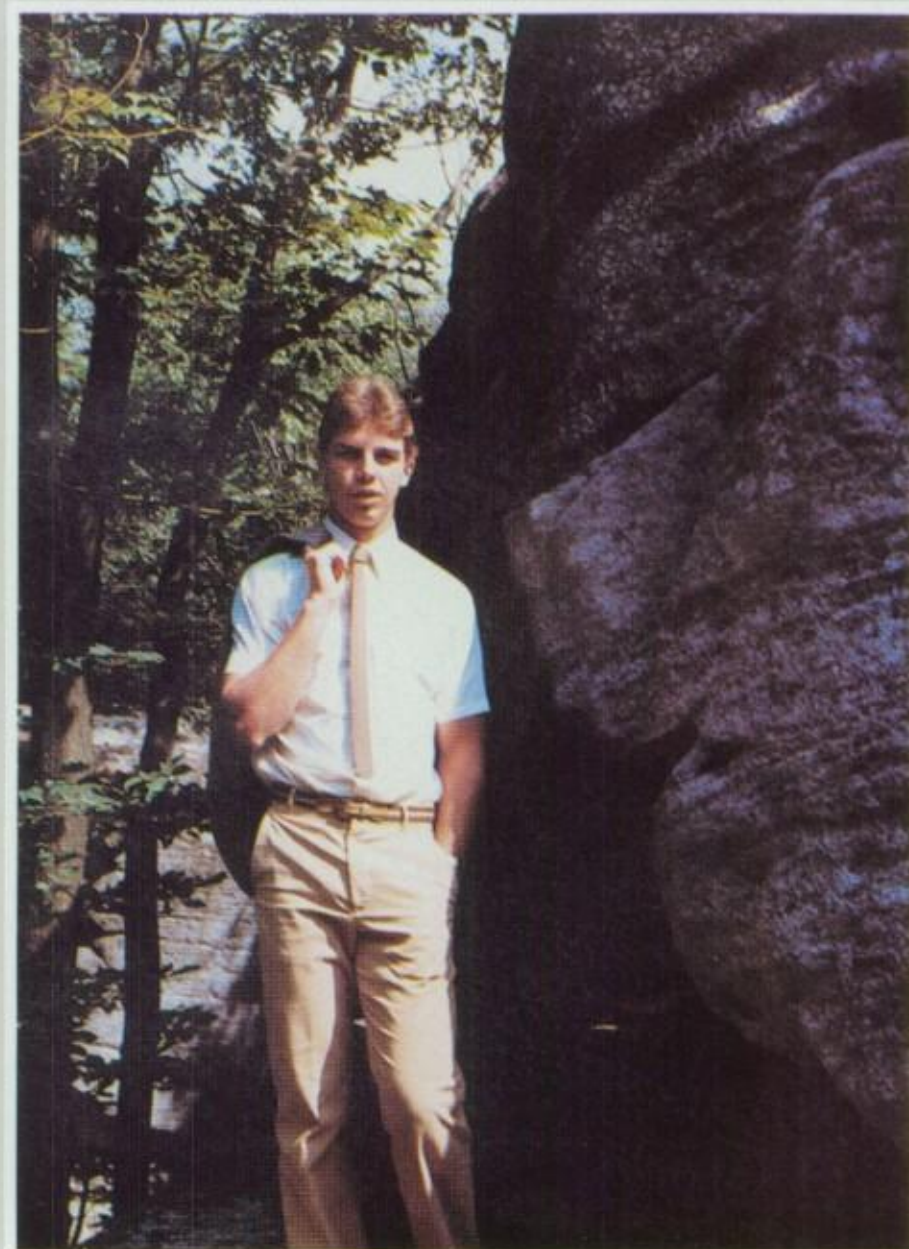

Ted: Keep on truckin'.

To all of my teammates: You're the greatest!

Blue line forever!

So long Cranbrook. Its been great.

For most people the fantasy is driving around in a big car, having all the chicks you want and being able to pay for it, it always has been, still is, and always will be. Anyone who says it isn't is talking. -Mick Jagger

To EFS-Brief were my days among you, and briefer still the words I have spoken. But should my voice fade in your ears, and my love vanish in your memory, then I will come again, and with a richer heart and lips more yielding to the spirit will I speak. Yea, I shall return with the tide, and though death may hide me, and the greater silence enfold me, yet again will I seek your understanding. -Kahlil Gibran

Another: Farewell to you and the youth I have spent with you. It was but yesterday we met in a dream. You have sung to me in my aloneness, and I of your longings have built a tower in the sky. But now our sleep has fled and our dream is over, and it is no longer dawn. The noontide is upon us and our half waking has turned to fuller day, and we must part. If in the twilight of memory we should meet once more, we shall speak again together and you shall sing to me a deeper song. And if our hands should meet in another dream we shall build another tower in the sky. -Kahlil Gibran

1985 SEASON

With a couple of new coaches, the start of the '85 season looked a little shaky. No one was sure what to expect. Coming off of a good '84 season, we were hoping to improve on its 7-2 record, but it would take work, lots of hard work. Being at the disadvantage of a completely new coaching staff, things went slowly at the start of practice. We had to go through an adjustment stage that other teams were not subject to. Our problems were reflected in a disappointing loss in the sweltering heat to Detroit Country Day. Along with the loss came a serious knee injury to David Williams, a starting guard.

However, the next week, we bounced back for a 38-0 victory over Clarenceville. Capitalizing on 5 turnovers, our offense and defense worked together for the win. Eric Sanders and David Wahl each snatched the ball away from the Trojans while on defense and added a touchdown each on offense. The next Friday afternoon we traveled to Harper Woods. We had a boring 28-0 win but didn't play as well as we'd hoped. Good performances were recorded by Dave Rasmusson, Jeff Pinder and Mike Wright. The "Goose gang" registered its third straight shut out the following week over Hamtramck 39-0. Kurt Graves ran for two touchdowns while Blane Richardson finally managed to pull down that elusive first interception. Carlos (Butch) Smith started in St. Florian game, throwing three t.d. strikes while running for two more. Steve Hull man-handled their monstrous nose guard while Jack Reibling put the "stud" of their team on his butt on a punt return. However the big hit came from Ned Lebo as he crushed a crossing tight end just as a pass touched his hands. This game was the only performance of the big backfield and the little line all year. This was the big one: North. They were the only other undefeated team in the league. It was a cold rainy day in Mt. Clemens. The first half was tough; four plays and punt. Robbie Grodman consistently made good snaps while Karl Klos booted the slick sphereoid down the field. However then, all at once it happened. David Wahl was wide open down field and Butch let the ball fly. After Jaffar Zadeh's extra-point, the score was 7-0. However, there was still plenty of time left. The play "Bone tight wham right." Graves picked up some key first downs which wound down the clock along with North's hopes of a win.

Alumni, funfair, the (non-marching) band, spectators! These four things mean one thing, Home Coming! After a slow first quarter, the offense caught fire in the second. Smith connected with Chuck Lechner on a yard t.d. pass and Lebo added two more before the half taking advantage of down field blocking of Klos and Sanders. The offense rolled up 400 yards while the stingy Crane defense led by Jelliffe registered its six consecutive shutout. And, in case you missed it, this was the game of Nick Addyman's solo tackle. We now only had one team standing between us and the league championship, East. They came to play and gave us a fight in the first half. We entered the locker room at intermission with a slight edge thanks to a Smith to Lechner connection. However the second half was ours. The combination of good blocking (Steve Hull at center had the most amazing game) and strong running (by all three backs) gave us the moment to score twice more. However as the clock wound down under ten seconds, East managed to score on a tipped "Hail Mary" pass thus breaking the six game shutout streak. The next Friday night we traveled up to Avondale for our only night game. Everyone was pumped up and ready to play. However, so were the Rhinos. Not much offense was generated on the first half, but with an Avondale fumble on the 3, Butch snuck it in for the score. The P.A.T. failed and it was one successful scoring drive and almost put another one in as time wore out. The good gang was back with another shutout, thanks to a good game from both Trace Perkinson and Richie Yun. We finished with an excellent record of 11-1 and missed going to playoffs by just a couple of points. We never could have done it without the help of the guys who didn't always play in the games, but were in there fighting at practice; Dan Ruzumna, Shakin' Ron Machen, Jim Nave, John Waters, Bill Watkinson, and Juan DeLeon. A coach Dave Schuele and the lucky bandana, coach Bob Varhasian and coach Tony LaPolla. Heres to a great '85 Cranbrook football team.

1985 SEASON

PRESEASON: Going to school early, putting up nets in a downpour, lots of players for practice, new assistant coach: Mr. Cox, and a lot of young talent.

We won't bore you with explicit details of every game, but rather entice you with a summary of the memorable ones, ones that matter to the players, not the records.

SEASON: The annual trip to Muskegon started off the season. It was a chance for our players to get to know their players and each other. We had a .500 record coming back the next day after playing two games. We raised our average to .666 after we played Andover and then to .750 as we defeated Lutheran North with a last minute goal by Kip Guenther. We can't note any more percentages due to an inability in math. The season traveled on. Then, all off a sudden came DCD who only graduated two players from last year's team, the slimes! We lost, but heavily dominated the game. The team was beginning to look like a team instead of nineteen individuals who were basically new to each other. Class A Ann Arbor Pioneer ventured to Bloomfield Hills at seven in the morning, began playing at nine, tired out by ten and were beaten by eleven with a game winning goal by Paru Mital. We cruised along winning, losing, and learning. We soon approached Brother Rice. The scouting report said they were good, damn good. They were strong, fast, and had great skill. It was Cranbrook's best game of the season on a Monday afternoon with mostly Brother Rice parents there. It was a 1-0 loss and the goal was scored in the first minute. After that there were no more chances for Brother Rice, which was a victory in itself. Going from the top ranked team in the whole state to the top ranked team in Class B, Cranbrook faired better. A 4-0 victory over Liggett showed that rankings can be deceiving. Playoffs rolled around and what do you know, Cranbrook plays Liggett away in the second, just like last year. It was 1-1 in the second half on a very windy day. There were a lot of opportunities for both teams, but finally Andy Wildermuth got the one that counted. It remained 2-1 and Cranbrook won by a goal, just like last year. On the way home the Cranes had dreams of a state championship running through their fatigued bodies. They knew they would have another crack at DCD and they were prepared. Unfortunately so was DCD. They decided not to play offense at all because that would be too risky. They marked up everybody except the goalie. Cranbrook dominated in the pouring rain. It was scoreless at half time. The teams switched ends and it was scoreless at the end of regulation time. It was scoreless at the end of regulation overtime. Now it was sudden death. The Bees were just praying for a shootout because they thought they would have a chance there. The fans were screaming, excitement surrounded the soccer field making it an island apart from the rest of the lower fields. Cranbrook was in control of the game, but just couldn't get the ball inside the goal because it was being blocked by a goalie who seemed to have the exact same measurements. There was one minute left in sudden death overtime. DCD had the ball on a free kick and were running down the clock, it was all over. DCD was to go on while Cranbrook ended its season the next day with a victory over Oak Park for Homecoming.

Despite its abrupt ending, the season was very enjoyable. With thanks obviously being owed to Mr. Graesser who molded the team to reflect his image, hey, we were definitely classy. Mr. Cox, the assistant coach, helped with team tactics, drills, and intensity. Also a special thank you to Senior Gomez, who although he was not a coach of the varsity team this year gave us all the love and support he would have anyway.

A few parting words; high school is something we will always remember. For us high school soccer will be recalled with the happy memories.

1986 SEASON: RUNNER-UP IN STATE FINALS

It's rare to find a team that has changed as much as the 1985 Cross-country Team. Losing only two Varsity runners from '84, the team came back in late August with expectations of a state championship. We were extremely confident that no other school could put seven athletes on the line to defeat us. Then everything literally fell apart. Some guys decided not to run cross country only because they wouldn't be returning to Cranbrook. Matt Gallaway incurred a nasty stress fracture in a 15 mile run during the preseason. Everyone seemed to be missing meets with minor injuries that we tried pampering. But perhaps the greatest shock was our first meet, and our first defeat. Finally, we began to stop feeling sorry for ourselves, and with the help of unexpected, quality runners like Taylor Galyean and Steve Driker, we began winning. And we didn't stop winning until regionals, where we shocked the number one ranked team, Centerline, and Decisively brought home our second regional championship in two years. Slowly and cautiously, we began regaining our confidence for the state meet. After some of the best performances of the year, we captured the runner up title on November 2 with three runners under 17 minutes for the 5K course. Quickly overshadowing our feeling of consolation, the entire team realized our accomplishment; the first Cranbrook cross-country team to place in the state finals.

A team made of soccer players, pseudo-intellectuals, and other misguided folk, we made each member of the team feel like a runner. The first through seventh man line-up changed every week, humbling some and inspiring some, but for the good of all. Through all of the competition's starting-line jokes concerning our pre-race cheer, we always managed to come out on top, kind of chuckling quietly to ourselves.

Cranbrook Golf 1985

It's not just a job, it's an adventure!

"Oh silly boy, that's not how it goes You weren't supposed to hit your tee shot over the fence, through the trees and onto that car windshield, Son it would have been easier to aim for the vast expanse of lush green turf to the left of the freeway, Oh, you were?? Ah, well, even a master can error, We still love you Choi."

Mr. Walden and Mr. DeMarco: What it must take to actually coach a golf team made up of so many distinctive characters. How does one go about coaching golf anyway? I mean, you can't go and change a golfer's swing, it already does the job; that's why he's on the varsity golf team. The golf swing is as unique as he who holds the club. So where does that leave the aspiring golf coach? Putting silent confidence in us, offering simplistic and obvious words of advice, quietly sharing the joy and athletic feels in accomplishing a goal, be it curing a slice, breaking eighty, canning an eighteen foot chip, or sinking an eight inch putt. This is your job. You don't learn how to be a proficient golf coach, you're born one. Thanks for being good coaches.

This year we were young, wild and free. We gained experience. Next year, the confidence and consistency will be there. Just wait and see.

A few descriptive words: yo-yo, rollercoaster, fluctuating, modulating, up, down, good, bad, indifferent!!

Each player had a high point during the year. Unfortunately, two players rarely converged at one of these high points simultaneously during the season. But regardless, we managed to take with us a few laughs, some enjoyment perhaps, maybe, hopefully . . . sure . . . and that, my friends is what this strange and unique game is all about.

Someone once said, "Golf is not a sport, it's a state of mind. (It matters not what you score, just as long as you look good on the first tee and the final green.)" Are you getting the idea of this game?

Observe: strike the ball with club in a manner which will propel the white, yellow, orange, or pink etc, sphere on a flight pattern pleasing to the human eye, and places said ball relatively close to the proximity which you were aiming at. Having performed this simple task, you have accomplished a goal; thus, you have achieved some measure of self-respect and satisfaction. That's all that matters. That's just the way you have to look at it, or else this game of golf will eat you alive. You can't fight it, it's bigger than all of us. You got to have fun out there people, once the fun's gone, stop playing the game.

1985-1986 SEASON

Cranbrook has not had a varsity basketball contender since the days of Peter Long, and Adam Murphy. The metro conference, one of the weakest in the state, has always been dominated by DCD, Hamtramck, and the three Lutheran schools. Cranbrook and Harper Woods have usually battled for last place.

The 1986 Cranbrook varsity basketball team was determined to change things this year. With new talent, a new coach, and, dig this, even new warm-ups, not to mention the absence of DCD, who left the conference at the end of last year, there seemed to be a chance for this team to make its move towards the conference title. The Eccentric didn't seem to agree with us; their prediction for the year, Cranbrook 7th in the Metro. This prediction motivated the team to make the Eccentric eat its words.

Our first victim was to be Pontiac Catholic. Both the Freshman, and the J.V. teams had won their games that day, and we were determined to pull the first "hat trick" of the year. Things didn't go as planned, we fell short by 6 points. The final score 53-47, Pontiac Catholic. We never recovered from that game, which we should've won. We found ourselves saying, "we should've won", after a lot of games.

We managed to pull one out, 8 games into the season. A 55-47 victory over Clarenceville, but after this win, we went back to our losing ways.

What happened to those enthusiastic, motivated, and talented Cranes of 1986? Don't blame it on the coach, or the players; if you want to point the finger, point it at the school. How can a group of eleven talented basketball players become a team when their season is constantly interrupted with long vacations, where we are idle and other teams are in tournaments. How can these guys learn to play together as one, when the Varsity team has to share the gym with the J.V., Freshman, and even the Lacrosse and Baseball teams.

I just hope that the team of 1987 impresses someone next year, and maybe then the basketball program will get some R-E-S-P-E-C-T.

The Cranbrook Kingswood Varsity Computer Team, under the able and inspiring leadership of Admiral Richard H. ("Coach") Lamb, came in sixth place in a league of twenty teams as of Christmas Break. Each week, a four-person team or two would go to North Farmington High School to compete against other league teams and, perhaps more importantly, eat free pizza. We also participated in contests sponsored every other month by the American Computer Science League, where we solved inane problems and answered even more inane questions. We hope to attend again the annual All-Stars Contest in Pennsylvania this spring.

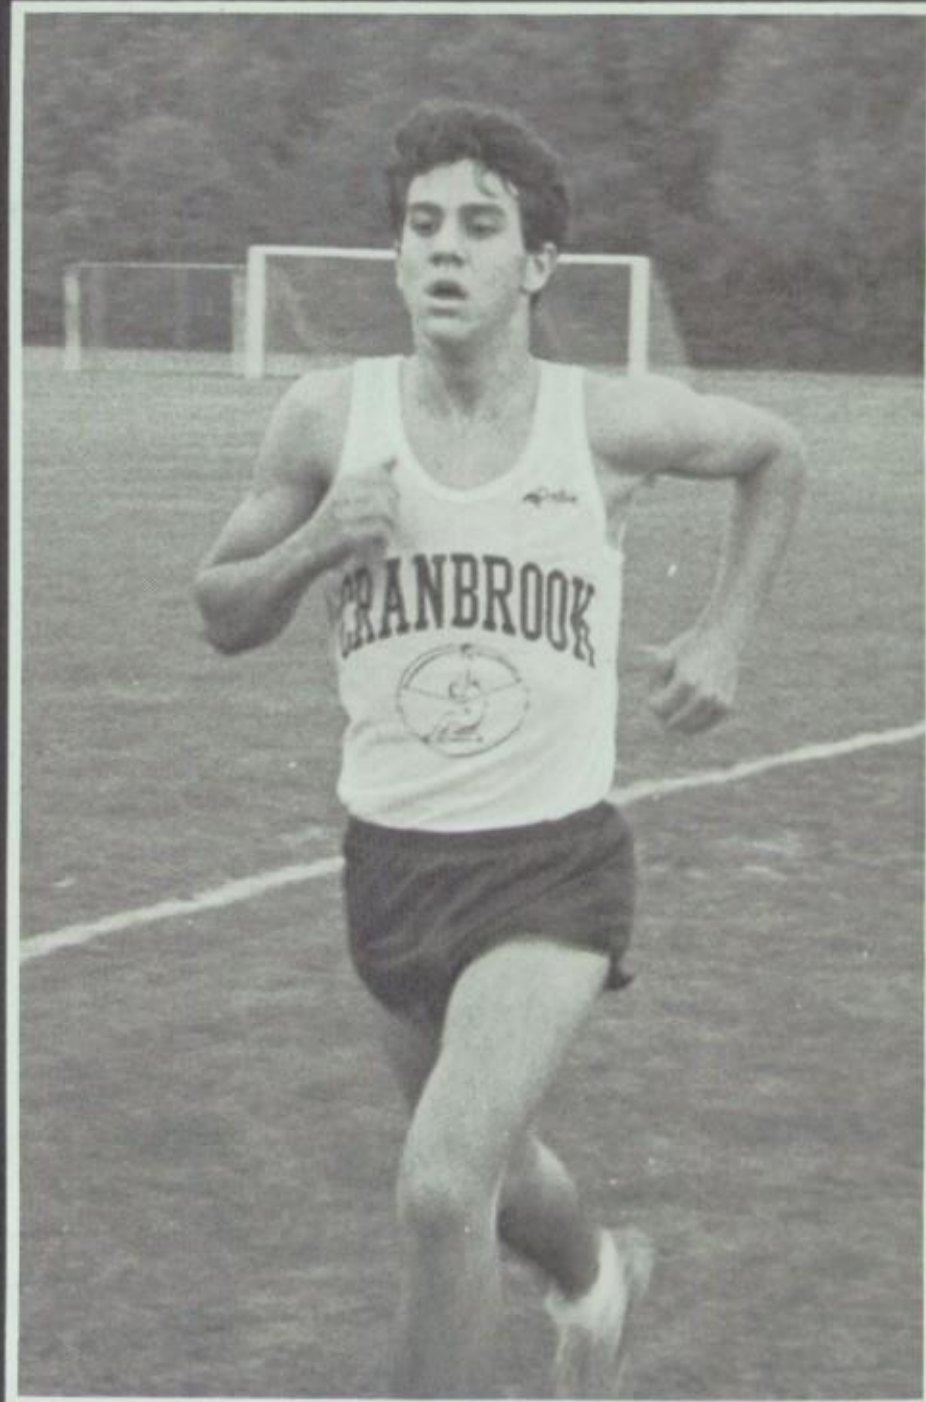

One of our most important meets this year was the University of Detroit Computer Science Tournament. We were one of many teams that solved the problem; due to the tie-breaking system (and the archaic computer system used), we did not secure a place in the finals.

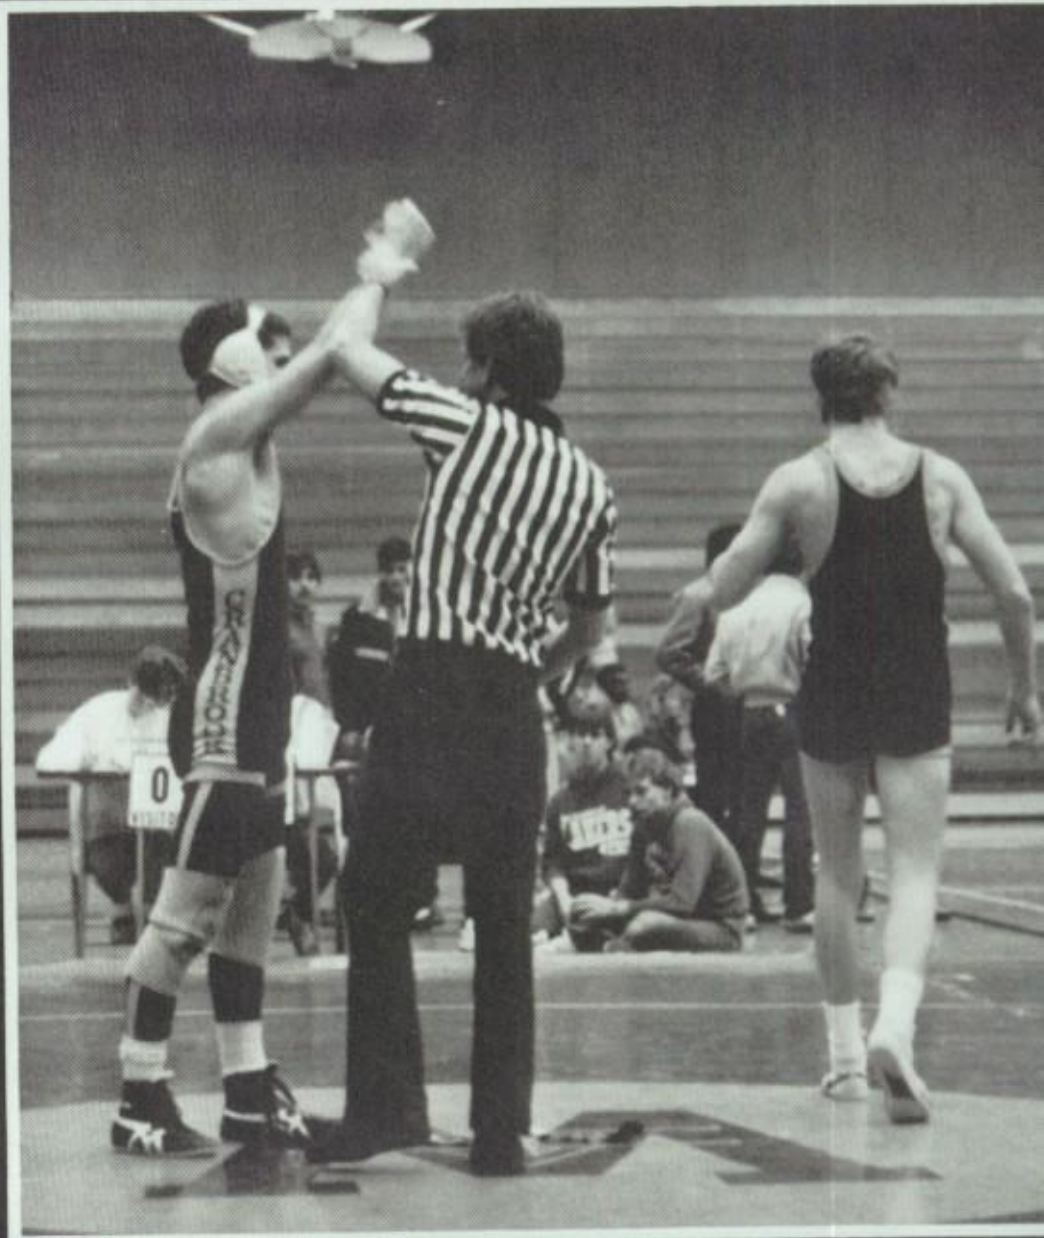

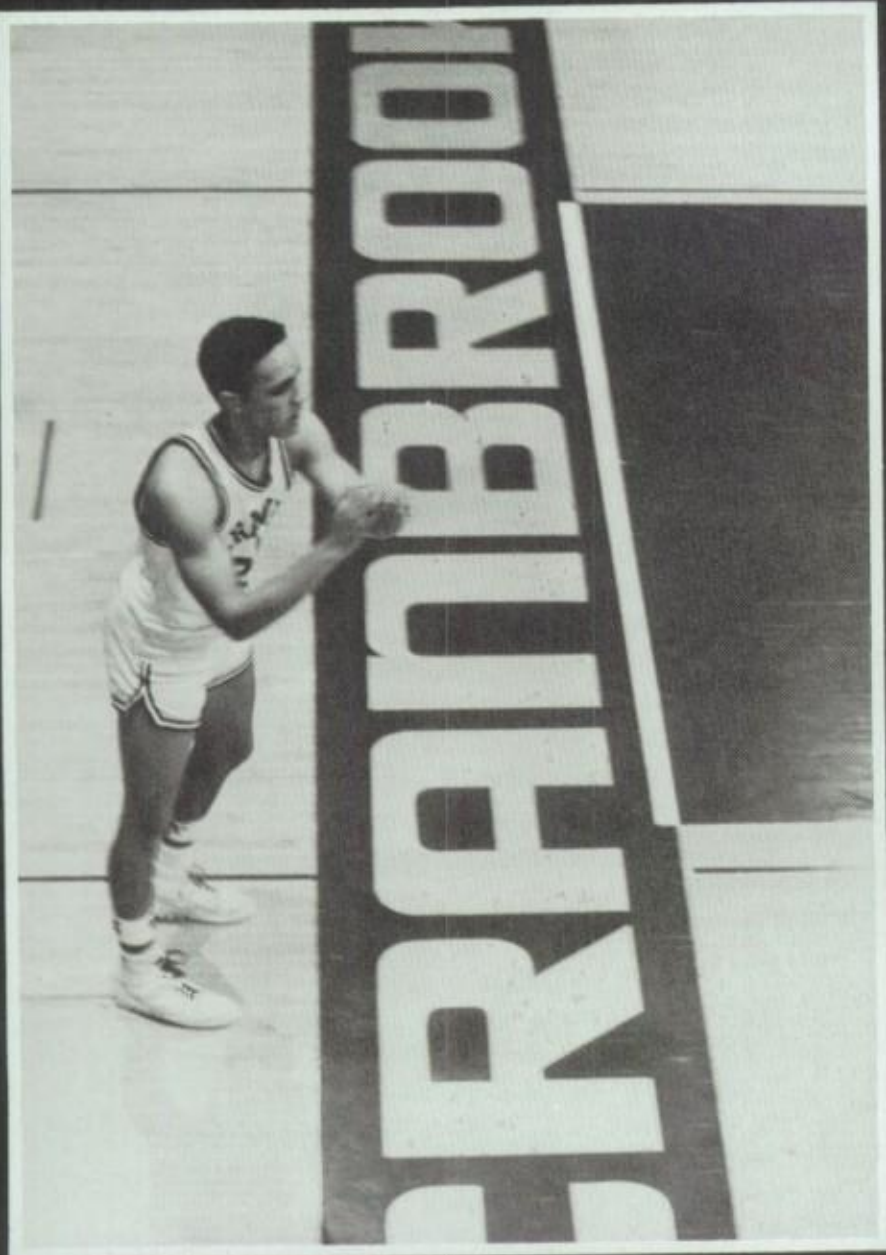

We would like to thank Dr. Sue Spencer and Mr. Nelson Lebo, Jr., for driving us to meets this season when Coach Lamb could not.

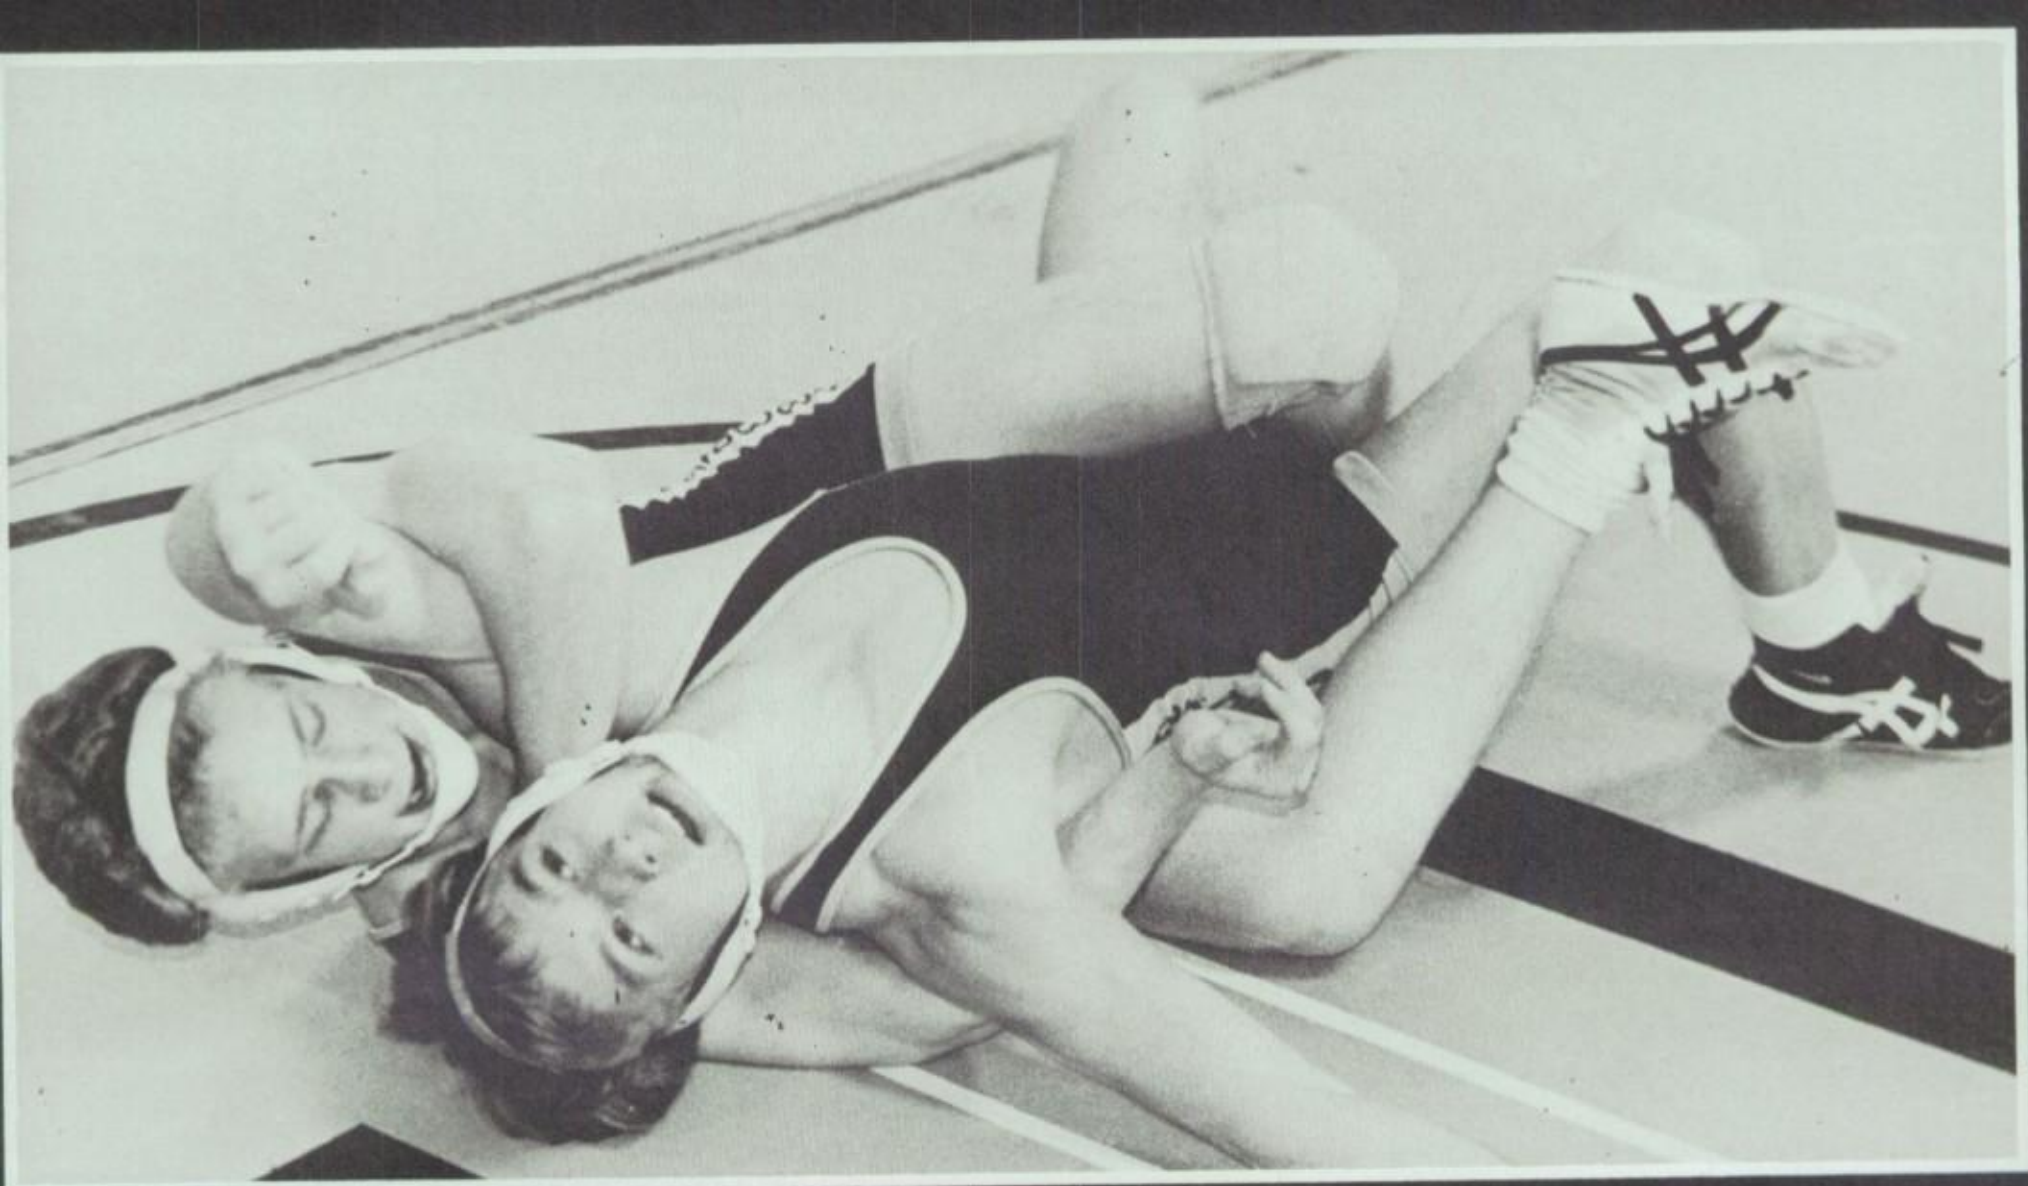

We, the Programmers, must be able to mentally solve problems, work logically and efficiently, and be creative. We, the Programmers, mold the future of today, solving previously unsolvable questions. We, the Programmers, are believers in the one omniscient and omnipotent supreme being: IBM.

STUDENT ARTS

RADIO CLUB

THE ONLY STATION THAT MATTERS — TO US!

With a milk-carton full of records, DJ #1898 made his way down a barren basement hall searching for relief from the vastly overwhelming silence. A flourescent blue light emanated from near the bookstore. At last, he found his oasis of noise. DJ #1898 walked to the light and found 5000 booming miliwatts of solitude.

The newest addition to Cranbrook Kingswood is heard between 5 and 11pm. The selections of music reflect the taste of the students who participate. Finally, the "sound" idea would not have been reality if it were not for Mr. Edgar, Mr. Merluzzi, and the rest of the faculty and students involved.

Thanks to all those who participated this year. We'll be back again to tantalize your eardrums come September.

THE FAMILY

Peter "Three Fingers" Goldberglioni, Raymone "One Shot" Ashare, Todd "The Turk" Finko, Jason "Godfather" Lewistone, Wade "Consigliori" Jackson.

Are you having trouble with a particular teacher? Did you get a bad grade on a recent test? Did Mr. Salas curse at you in Spanish? No one to turn to — contact the Family. We provide professional influencing at a reasonable fee (politicians and Don Merluzzi extra — he's a paisan.) No job too small. Discount rate for group "icings". Also — are you tired of those cold Kingswood girls? We can provide friendly companionship for $75 per hour (Woodwinds staff runs $15 per hour).

THE SUPREME GODFATHERS OF THE FAMILY

We appreciate having this opportunity (even though the editors of the Brook had no choice but to print this as they were at gunpoint of our part-time latrine cleaner/hitman Todd "The Turk" Finko) to thank certain persons in our beautiful society and to straighten out some important historical facts. First of all, we would like to reinforce the fact that the Korean Mafia was the first organized crime unit in Cranbrook Kingswood Schools. We (Godlikelioni and I) commenced the Korean Mafia early in 1980, specializing in espionage, assassination attempts, arson, changing of grades on the school's main computer, and pretending to be foreign students who didn't speak English to the new and naive teachers at Cranbrook Kingswood.

Realizing our power and influence, five low-life plebes on campus decided that they wanted to work for us and hence became our full-time slaves, peons, hitmen, and servants for two lifetimes (Godlikelioni and I are Buddhists). Our word is law to them; what we demand must be done — it is imperative. However, full dictatorship is no longer in vogue, so we gave our junior mafia, or "The Family" as they call themselves, some human rights. We gave them names so they could refer to each other (cute ones at that), clothes, hair gel, housing (the Senior cabin), and a car (the one that appears in their picture is actually ours. We gave them a '79 station wagon). Most importantly, we gave them guns so that they can carry out our orders with the utmost precision. So, after hiring The Family, if "Three Fingers" Goldbergelioni tries to rip you off, or if "Consigliori" Jacksioni tells you he cut Slati's hair for you when he really didn't, or if "The Godfather" Lewistone gets too cocky with his misleading nickname, then give the Supreme Godfathers a call, and we'll straighten them out.

All my power,
Ricardo "Deityoni" Kangloni

SIMON & SIMON

These amazing identical twins were separated at birth and grew up in isolated families until the age of seventeen. It was at Cranbrook Kingswood School during a Genealogy A.P. lab that Simon and Simon realized their true fraternal bond. Now, twenty years later, they fight crime together on the perilous streets of Birmingham.

BROOK

1987?

They said it could not be done: A combined Cranbrook Kingswood yearbook, that could be produced on time, by a small group of people, at an affordable price, and could be lifted by one person. We believe we have come up with the solution for the final step to total Cranbrook Kingswood coordination.

Buckle up—together we can save lives.

1986 Mercury Sable. You've reshaped your thinking. Obviously, so have we.

Sophisticated new shape. The 1986 Mercury Sable.

The new Mercury Sable is truly a sweeping automotive advance. One that shows we've kept up with the times as much as you have.

You see it in Sable's wind-slippery shape that moves through the air more efficiently than any other domestic four-door sedan.

You see it in Sable's dramatic new "laser" lightbar extending between the flush-mounted aerodynamic headlamps.

Sable has front-wheel drive, of course. And a 3.0-liter V-6 that's new right down to the dipstick.

Inside, everyone will think of Sable as a driver's car. Except the passengers. Controls are positioned right where your hands and feet would like them to be. Backlighted instruments tell you just about everything you ever wanted to know about a car's condition.

Perhaps most important of all, Sable is a Mercury. And Mercury's commitment to quality isn't just something written on paper. It's built into the car.

You're ready for a car that suits today and you, beautifully. And the car you're ready for is ready for you. The 1986 Mercury Sable.

AEROENGINEERING

"Air flow management does more than help Aerostar and Merkur get better mileage, it also contributes to better handling!"

Larry Socha
Manager,
Exterior and Aerodynamics,
Design Engineering

Ford Aerostar is one of the newest examples of the commitment to quality at Ford Motor Company; demonstrating leadership in applying aerodynamic principles to automotive design.

A swept back front end, spoilers, flush glass and door handles are all quality refinements that help Aerostar slip through the air with a whisper.

*Complete air flow management helps make Aerostar's fuel economy ratings better than those of many 1985 compact sedans.

Merkur's biplane rear spoilers not only contribute to solid road feel but also help reduce the air turbulence behind the vehicle for greater aerodynamic efficiency.

Merkur uses a small scoop to take only as much air as the engine needs for cooling and let the rest flow over the car smoothly to exert "down force" on Merkur's biplane rear spoilers. Result: The feel of solid, in-touch-with-the-road, quality.

*26 EPA estimated city mileage (van)
23 EPA estimated city mileage (wagon)

Thunderoads.

Get it together—buckle up.

The engineers who designed these roads knew that they'd present a challenge. But they never expected that some would drive these roads in a Thunderbird for precisely that reason.

Route 101, Washington

Route 112, New Hampshire

On roads with long, smooth straightaways, Thunderbird's sleek lines use the wind to improve the car's stability and road control at highway speeds.

There are also great driving roads with twists and turns that define the term "serpentine". On this kind of road, Thunderbird's precise steering and all-season radials do an excellent job of unwinding the road.

You may even know of a special road that closely resembles an asphalt roller-coaster. On this kind of pavement, Thunderbird's gas-filled struts and shocks, and modified MacPherson front suspension excel.

On roads like these throughout the country, a very select group of drivers are discovering the meaning of Thunderoads.

P.S.-Please spare my humble life!!!

To Dad (alias Dr. Tom):

I never said all the things I wanted to because I just never realized I wouldn't have the chance, even in the hospital. I won't cry much more. Someone told me to be happy and I am. If I didn't say I loved you, I loved you a hell of a lot. I think of you, and I will always try to be a hitter: "This is ground control to Major Tom, Your circuit's dead, there's something wrong Can you hear me Major Tom, can you hear me Major Tom, can you hear me I'm here am I"

PS: Dr. Pell, Mar-I could never thank you enough for your support. I love you both. MO: I chewed a lot of gum, but also a lot of fat with you. Thanks. You're amazing

To the Brook Editors; Paul, Terry, and Chip-It was fun, but I don't know if I would do it all again — What the hell, sure I would, I've got nothing better to do with my time. Remember all of the fun and strange things that happened.

To Marilyn, Lisa, Amanda, and the rest: Thanks for making me laugh — Life just wouldn't be the same without people like you (Girls).

Tom, Chuck, Mario, and Blake (and Hammy), It was a pretty fun year. You learn a lot about a person when you are around them 24 hours a day, and you guys still seem pretty cool after all that.

Raz & Snide, Kim, Breck, Laura, Jennifer, T.J., Craig, Ben, Simon, Byron, Kelly, Hendrick, and anyone I forgot: Thanks for putting up with me.

Woodwinds-If all else fails, I know a place where you can stick your heads in the sand.

Jerry

JU, TD, CR, and BROOK staff: Neil, Woodwinds run, inept peons, deadlines?, Jerry's prom date(s), and Terry's too for that matter — Was it worth it all? Yeah.

Kris: It's great to have a friend that one can talk to any time, about anything. Thanks for being that friend ... What was "Brazil" about anyways? huh?

Harvard UN-AA, MB, JS, KM, RK, BC, MH, DS: ... when I'm like this, I'm mature ... really-Committee? ... get outa here, let me sleep-Hey Bets, before you dump the guy, can I at least finish my lunch? — It was a great weekend. RENDEVOUZ IN '87!

Mary B: The Brook rules! And by the way, all that body copy will fit in that TINY space ... trust me. Missing deadlines is sooo much fun ... Mary, enjoy Yale, you definitely deserve it. Adios.

Waldek: Shaw's class, it's rag on Holly day, Peru and bombs, Brook room with LD ... it was all interesting. Diane: Sauna parties are better BEFORE the guys leave. Rich (Less): Labs? huh? We're seniors ... beg it. Yun: I've got to stop dropping you off at 3:00 am ... Stan: You really shouldn't spray air freshener in your mouth. How many did you have?

Wilderness '84: Although friendships have not strengthened, my memories will. I'll never forget so valuable an experience. SH, LB, DP, CC, SN, Mrs. R, Brian ... Thanx. Paul Chip: The quotes I could put to you could fill up the yellow pages. For example, Otsego I & II ... Shower ... tell Jerry I want to be senior editor ... YOU BREAK EVERYTHING! ... It's Friday the 13th ... It's only university challenge Rick! ... Where's my shoe! ... Sholet and Haul off ... Not my house ... Why don't we go back now? ... Anyway before this begins to sound too much like Kingswood senior quotes I had better say thanks for everything. See you in the Bahamas.

Other Assorted Reweys: Thanks for being a second family to me

Mom and Dad: Thank you for making me go here and for everything else.

Marilyn: I could fill this page with all the psuedo-romantic gook in the world but nothing can express my appreciation for all you have done for me.
